Homecoming, Election Slated The Parthenon

MARSHALL UNIVERSITY STUDENT NEWSPAPER

Vol. 64

HUNTINGTON, W. VA.

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 18, 1964

No. 8

Frosh Voting Is Scheduled
On October 7

By DAVID PEYTON
Staff Reporter

Preliminary plans for the freshman class election, tentatively set for Oct. 7, and for the 1964 Homecoming celebration Oct. 23-24, have been announced by Danie Stewart, Barboursville junior, and Jennifer Nagle, Huntington junior, respectively.

Stewart, Commissioner of Student Government Affairs, and Mike Mittleman, Miami, Fla., sophomore and coordinator of the Election Commission, presented the schedule of election activities to the senate Wednesday night.

Filing dates for freshmen senatorial and class president candidates are scheduled from Sept. 23 through Sept. 30. On Oct. 1 and 2 Vice President Fred Reeder, Huntington senior, will lecture the candidates on student government. Campaign posters may not go up on campus until 2 p.m. Oct. 4.

On election day the polls will be open from 8 a.m. until 5 p.m. in the basement of the Student Union. Signs and campaign posters must be removed from the campus by 8 a.m. Oct. 8.

Jennifer Nagle, commissioner of Social Affairs, has announced a meeting with the leaders of campus groups to explain the rules for this year's Homecoming because of numerous changes from last year's celebration.

Although times and places of certain events have not yet been determined, the participants and rules of the events have been established.

Featured entertainment groups for this year's festivities will include three nationally known groups — The Drifters, the Bill Black Combo and Vocal Group, and Maurice Williams and the Zodiacs. The dance will be held in Memorial Field House. Price of tickets has not yet been announced.

The theme of this year's celebration will be "Rally Around Marshall," and fraternity floats and sorority decorations will be expected to follow the general theme. The Homecoming Commission decided to again initiate floats for fraternities only, while sororities are invited to participate in "modified house decorations" competition. Last year, the Homecoming parade featured an antique car parade through downtown Huntington.

Trophies will be presented to winners in float and house decoration competition. Other clubs and organizations on campus have been invited to place signs on certain campus sites. Trophies will also be presented for this competition.

The Homecoming Coordinator is Penny Douglas, Charleston senior.

THESPIAN TRYOUTS SET

Tryouts for the first of three University Theatre plays are scheduled for Sept. 22 and 23. Auditions will be conducted from 3-5 and from 7-9 p.m. in the Science Hall auditorium.

"The Happy Time" is a comedy about a French Canadian family living in Ottawa in the early 1920's. The cast of players includes parts for eight males and four females.

Dr. Smith Cites Leader Traits In 1st Column

EDITOR'S NOTE: Today's article by President Stewart H. Smith will begin a regular column to be presented weekly by the university president on a variety of subjects of interest to the students and the college community. The column will appear each Wednesday starting with the Sept. 23rd edition of the Parthenon.)

By DR. STEWART H. SMITH

Leadership is the ability to move groups to action. Marshall has had some good student leaders in past years as well as some who failed to fulfill their responsibilities.

To become an effective leader requires years of hard work, study and personal development. A successful leader must have a hundred positive qualities such as good health, honesty, good judgment, vision, decisiveness, courage and many others.

Although a person has all these qualities he will fail as a leader unless he has initiative, the ability to express himself well and the ability to take action.

The Student Leadership Camp, originally held in 1952 at Camp Cliffside in Kanawha County, was held September 2-4 at Cedar Lakes near Ripley. About 65 students, faculty, and administrative officials attended.

From the beginning the purposes of this annual program have been to increase acquaintanceship, to provide some training in leadership, and to gain a fuller understanding of University problems and objectives.

Too often students eagerly accept important leadership assignments only to fail in the proper performance of the duties involved.

A good leader first develops plans with the help of the group he is to lead. Then he sees to it that definite responsibilities are assigned to others.

Some potential leaders stop here. The effective leader follows through by seeing that each member of his team carries out his assigned tasks.

All progress is made through strong leadership. More than a hundred Marshall students are in positions of leadership now.

They serve as captains of athletic teams, presidents of fraternities, sororities and of many other organizations. A special group serves in Student Government. Many are chairmen of

CJ PHOTOS NEXT WEEK

A photographer from Ma'Del Studio will be in the Student Union next week for the convenience of those students who have not already signed up for the 1965 "Chief Justice" portraits. Monday through Friday his hours are 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Cost of the single yearbook photo is $2.05.

RAM Enlists Help Of Marco

TAKING THE BULL by the horns to make sure RAM, a program designed to improve communications between the students and businessmen, gets off to a good start are Leonard Samworth, "Chief Ram" of Rally Around Marshall and Kay Sage, new editor-in-chief of The Parthenon. RAM was organized a year ago to renew ties with Marshall and the Tri-State area and to show the community's interest in maintaining an affiliation with the Mid-American Conference.

MU Honors Program To Begin On Tuesday

The Marshall University Honors Program will begin its new year of programs dealing with "Freedom: The Individual and Society," Tuesday from 6:30 to 9 p.m.

Along with the launching of a new topic, the following 14 members have been selected to participate in the seminar: Lowell Adkins, Huntington sophomore; Tom Alley, Huntington junior; John Cross, Pt. Pleasant senior; Kay Estep, Medina, Ohio senior; Frances Fabi, Monaca, Penna. senior; Pat Faller, Huntington senior; Nancy Glaser, Hawthorne, N. J. sophomore; Cathy Imbrongno, Charlton Heights junior; Carolyn Kyle, Huntington junior; Harry Kelley, Huntington senior; Alfred Lovitz, Huntington senior; Sharon Rife, Huntington junior; Arline Roush, Letart sophomore; and Tom Young, St. Marys senior.

The weekly meetings of the seminar will be devoted to the discussion of particular aspects of the general subject "Freedom." For each meeting, the students will read selected materials which will serve as the basis for the discussions. Previously there had been a speaker at each meeting and students outside the seminar had come. However, this year the meetings will consist primarily of discussions.

On some occasions papers or lectures will be presented by faculty members or others with special knowledge of the topic. At other sessions, guest experts will sit in to help provide background information or to help clarify difficult points.

The first of these programs Tuesday night will be a discussion of Aldous Huxley's "Brave New World" with Ralph M. Edeburn, professor of zoology and Jack R. Brown, professor of English as special guests.

Buses Available For Football Tilt

Students wishing to ride buses to the Marshall-Morehead football game tomorrow night at Putnam Stadium in Ashland, Ky., must register at the Student Union by 3 p.m. today. The cost is $1.

Buses will depart for the game from the Science Hall parking lot at 7 p.m. Saturday. Sponsoring the buses for the game is the Rally Around Marshall (RAM) organization — the pep group primarily concerned with promoting better relationship between community and university.

Greek Women Begin Informal Sorority Rush

By BRENDA FAULKNER
Society Editor

Sorority rush is in full swing this week with Coke parties and rushees foremost in the minds of most Greek women.

Informal rush got under way Sunday with the Panhellenic tea. Then Monday all six of the Greek sororities began entertaining rushees with Coke parties, which have been scheduled this week. Tonight and tomorrow night the prospective pledges by the sororities.

Formal rush begins Sunday afternoon with each of the six houses being opened to tours by the rushees.

Open house will be conducted from 1 to 4 and from 5 to 8 p.m. The girls whose last names begin from A to M will be in the first group and are to meet in the Student Union at 12:45 p.m. The second group, with last names beginning N to Z, will meet in the Student Union at 4:45 p.m. From the union they will be guided to the houses. The girls are advised to wear church clothes for the tours.

The second parties, by invitation, begin on Monday at 6 p.m. There are three parties scheduled for both Monday and Tuesday nights, from 6 p.m. to 7:15 p.m., 7:30 to 8:45, and 9 to 10:15.

Wednesday is the first night for third parties. Like the second parties, they are set up on a three per night schedule for Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Absolute silence will be observed from 6 p.m. Wednesday to 4 p.m. Friday. This is with the exception of the scheduled third parties. During this period sorority members are forbidden to converse with rushees.

Between 8 a.m. and 10 a.m. Friday the rushees will go to the Dean of Women's office to sign slips indicating sorority preferences.

Then at 4 p.m. bids will be issued and recipients will go to their respective houses to begin their pledge days.

By noon Wednesday 309 girls had signed up. This is the largest rushee group in history.

Student Traffic Court Is Planned; Chief Justices Study Organization

By DAVID PEYTON
Staff Reporter

The Student Court met this week in an effort to speed up organization.

The court met last Tuesday to amend the rules of the court.

Meeting Monday For WMUL Staff

The first staff meeting of MU's radio station WMUL is scheduled at 11 a.m. Monday at the station offices.

The regular staff selected during the second semester of last year is required to attend this meeting. Anyone else who is interested should also attend the meeting. No experience is necessary.

There are still a few positions open on the staff this year.

Chief Justice Wendell English, Bluefield junior, told the justices that speedy amendment of court rules was necessary because a traffic court is due to be established soon by the justices.

Provisions are made for the court to hear and try campus traffic cases. This power of the court has not been exerted for some time.

In addition, the court is planning a new and more efficient filing system of court records. Files that now are scattered in various places throughout the university will be collected in a central place, probably the student government office, and kept under lock and key.

Committees have been established in the judicial system for various accelerated programs that the court hopes to initiate.

Craig Westfall, Huntington

junior and court justice, is studying the traffic court situation and his report is due next week.

Justice Mike Engle, Charleston sophomore, is in the midst of a search for public defenders for those brought before the traffic court. Engle reported Tuesday that few students qualify as public defenders when the criteria for selection is based on previous court experience. He said that he has found less than five students interested or experienced enough to be public defenders.

In addition to these actions, the court named a new faculty adviser to the court. He is Dr. Simon Perry, assistant professor of political science.

commissions and committees. All have jobs to do.

I think our Leadership Camp has been valuable to these leaders, and other potential leaders, in understanding some of the problems they will face this year. I wish the entire student body could have participated in the Camp.

For those who did participate, the job now is to provide effective and efficient leadership. For those who could not, the task is to support those in leadership positions.

With good leaders and good followers our University will continue the progress it has made during the past 127 years.

MUSICAL SUBSTITUTED

"How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying," originally scheduled for Oct. 21 and it takes TIME...

... to prepare for the future. The time you invest in your College Education will be the most important investment of your lifetime. Protect your investment of time in the future. The occurrence of an accident or sickness which results in large medical bills could financially wreck a student's opportunity to complete his or her studies.

Recognizing this fact, the Student Government Association of Marshall University has thoroughly investigated and approved a program of hospitalization and surgical insurance for full time students and their dependents for the school year beginning September 14, 1964.

The opportunity to insure your valuable investment of time in the future will be presented to you through the Student Government Association of Marshall University.

Walker Plans Trip To Africa; Nigerian To Study At Marshall

Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice-president of Academic Affairs, will go to Nigeria, Africa, in October to study the Nigerian educational system. He will complete plans for a six-month stay at Marshall of the assistant registrar at the University of Ife, Ife, Nigeria.

Joseph A. Okunlola, an educator from Nigeria, will arrive in November through a project financed and instituted by the Agency for International Development which brings representatives to this country to study the United States Educational system.

On the basis of his findings in Nigeria, Dr. Walker will set up a training program for Okunlola's visit to Marshall University. Dr. Walker said that it is certain that Okunlola will work closely with administrative officials, particularly the academic and social deans, and will have administrative duties to perform.

Dr. Walker and officials of other participating institutions were in Washington last week for a two-day briefing session about the program.

Other schools participating and the countries they will host are Wisconsin State University, Philippines; State University of New York College at Buffalo, Indonesia; Idaho State University, Pakistan; Plymouth (Mass.) State College, Nepal; and Wilmington (Ohio) College, Kenya.

Dr. Walker also said that while foreign students and faculty have come to the United States under similar programs, this will be the first program set up for administrative trainees.

Out of 100 institutions interested in having this program at their schools, Marshall was one of only six selected.

Marshall is the largest school in the project, and when questioned as to the value of this program, Dr. Walker commented, "It's a great honor for Marshall to be one of the six selected. Mr. Okunlola's visit will help him and his country and Marshall will receive national recognition; the cultural and academic life will be enriched; and we will have ties with a foreign nation through the exchange of literature, letters, and ideas."

CERTIFICATES READY

All students who have completed the First Aid course from Dr. Michael Josephs can pick up their cards of certification in Room 107 in Gullickson Hall.

Greenbackers Set For Card Section; Fornari Is Leader

The "Greenbackers", a volunteer organization responsible for a card section at home football games, has been re-organized this year under the leadership of Arthur C. Fornari, Wellsburg senior.

"This year," said Fornari, "we hope to have as complete a card section as possible. Members of the Robe, men's leadership honorary, will assist me in my efforts. Eighteen of these men will serve as row captains and will subsequently be responsible for filling their row with 19 other students I hope to have about 400 participating students."

A list of row captains is now posted in the Student Government Office.

A practice session for the card section will be held at 2:30 p.m. today at Fairfield Stadium. Interested students should meet in front of the Student Union at 2:15 p.m.

"One thing that I would like to emphasize," said Fornari, "is that for the future success of the card section, we of the Robe are encouraging freshman participation."

JENNINGS EARNS Ph.D.

Dr. Louis B. Jennings, associate professor of Bible and Religion and chairman of the department, received his Ph.D. from the University of Chicago, Sept. 4.

His dissertation topic, which dealt with a method of writing history by the use of ancient documents, was entitled "Shirley Jackson Case: A Study in Historical Methodology."

Dr. Jennings has taught at Marshall since 1948, except in 1951-52 when he was granted a leave of absence to conduct a special type of research project. His field of specialization was the New Testament.

DR. HARPER AT PARLEY

Dr. Charles P. Harper, director of the Marshall University Americanization Program for the training of immigrants in West Virginia for their citizenship examinations, is in Washington this week attending the 18th National Conference on Citizenship.

Parthenon Editor And Staff Named

Kay Sage, Bluefield senior, was recently named editor-in-chief of The Parthenon. Miss Sage has previously held positions on The Parthenon as society and news editor.

During the first staff meeting Miss Sage introduced the staff, and noted new changes in the structure of the editorial department for the coming year.

Gary Kearns, Charleston senior and last year's news editor, was chosen to fill the position of managing editor.

The news editors, Carolyn McDonel Nor'on, Va., junior and Carol Fox, Bethpage, N. Y., junior will handle the news editing for the Wednesday and Friday issues of The Parthenon.

Brenda Faulkner, Huntington senior, will act as society editor and Teresa Gothard, Huntington sophomore, as feature editor.

Rick Edwards, Logan junior, and Tim Massey, Mt. Hope junior, will handle sports. Miss Sage also chose Pat Austin, Cedar Grove senior, to head the Homecoming edition of The Parthenon.

Band To Perform Twice Tomorrow

The largest band in the school's history, over 100 strong, will participate in the opening football game. More than half of the band members are freshmen.

The band will leave for Ashland, Ky., tomorrow by bus at 1 p.m. to participate first in the Shriners' parade and then later at the game. The parade will form in front of Ashland City Park and end at the Henry Clay Hotel.

A social hour for the band will be given by the Shriners following the parade.

The band will open half-time activities under the direction of Band Director Howard L. Bell Jr.

Cheerleading Squad Is Ready For Opening Football Game

Practice sessions have begun for cheerleaders in preparation for the football season.

The seven girls who will be cheering the team on this year are: Lynda Taylor (captain), Huntington senior; Loretta Ufheil, Huntington senior; Karen Agee, Huntington junior; Judy Varnum, Huntington junior; Betsy Rich, Huntington sophomore; Sunny Sharp, Barboursville sophomore, and Betty Theis, Huntington sophomore.

The cheerleaders will be using new green and white pom poms. They hope to have new uniforms, which will consist of green wool skirts and sweaters and new jackets. The jackets are to be provided by the Robe, men's honorary fraternity.

The cheerleaders plan to work with the card section. Art Fornari, Wellsburg senior and coordinator of the card section, will work with the cheerleaders. They also are planning to work with the band director, Howard L. Bell, on various fight songs.

There will be pep rallies before each of the home games and the girls are working on plans to attend the away games and possibly charter buses for the students.

More casual dress for the games is going to be stressed for the student body.

Two or three male cheerleaders are needed on the cheering squad.

Freshmen Coordinators Earn Congratulations

We feel that the orientation of the freshmen this year was handled extremely well. The smoothness of the organization of Freshmen Week, and all of the activities connected with it, both before and after, was impressive, to say the least.

Hearty and sincere congratulations go to Francis Fabi, Monaca, Pa., senior, chief freshman guide; Kenneth Cohen, Wheeling senior and coordinator of the Freshmen Activities Committee and to all the freshmen guides who volunteered their services.

And we feel that the exciting atmosphere already apparent on campus is due partially, if not completely, to the professional management of the largest freshmen class to ever enroll in the University.

Never have we heard "We Are the Sons of Marshall" sung so heartily on campus so many times—and never have we seen so many green beanies worn for so long.

To ALL those responsible for creating such a situation, well done.

University Hall Renovation Is Well Underway

Plans for the renovation of the former University Hall into offices for faculty and administration are well underway, according to Joseph S. Soto, vice-president of business and finance.

Several offices are already located in this area at the rear of Old Main. Mr. Soto is now in the process of listing these and assigning space to other departments.

Removal of walls in various rooms of Old Main will be necessary to provide easy access to the new offices. For example, the size of classroom 211 is going to be reduced about one-third by a new corridor and partition.

No date has been set for the completion of this project, which was started last summer. The actual reconstruction has not begun yet because the architect, W. S. Donot of Huntington, hasn't made final plans and had them approved.

Dormitory furniture has been removed from the three floors in this part of Old Main, which was closed just after the end of the spring semester. Administrative offices are planned for the first floor while faculty members will occupy the top two. The 68 women who lived in University Hall are now staying in the newly-opened Residence Hall for Women.

This renovation of University Hall is part of a modernization program for several buildings.

Joe Slash, Huntington senior, will take over the post as business manager of the publication and Penelope Douglas, Charleston senior, will be advertising manager.

MU May Have Key Role In Aiding Area Youth Opportunities Center

By BOB ROGERS
Staff Reporter

Marshall may become the nucleus of a Youth Opportunities Center to serve a seven-county area of West Virginia.

The possibilities were outlined for Marshall officials Wednesday by James H. Perks and Kenneth E. Simmons of the West Virginia Department of Employment Security.

Perks said the center would provide guidance, counseling, and placement services for state youth and would work closely with work-training agencies in locating jobs for the youths.

Perks asked for University assistance in providing staff members for the center. He said a staff of 25, trained in counseling, psychology, social work, educational guidance and placement, would be needed.

President Stewart H. Smith pledged support for the center "as far as University personnel will go."

Perks explained that definite establishment of the center depends on the approval of federal funds under the Economic Opportunity Act, better known as the anti-poverty program.

He said the center will serve all youth—high school graduates, drop-outs, juvenile delinquents, and disadvantaged youth—between the ages of 16 and 18 and selected youth between 16 and 21 years.

The center would serve Logan, Mingo, Cabell, Wayne, Lincoln, Mason, and Putnam counties, Perks said.

"We hope to have 2,000 youths in the program within 60 days," Perks said. "We will try to have a highly individualized approach in the services offered," he added.

The services the center can offer, Perks said, will be geared to the training of the staff. Right now the center is in dire need of people in counseling and consultative fields.

Although the main center may be located in Huntington, staff members will travel into other counties to assist youths in locating jobs.

Those who need full services of the center would be invited to come to Huntington.

National Awards, Scholarship Cup Presented To Alpha Xi's

Aug. 14-19 was evidently "be kind to Alpha Xi Delta" week as the Gamma Beta Chapter of Alpha Xi Delta trotted home with two national awards.

At the sorority's Chapter Officers Training School, held every three years in Columbus, Ohio, 10 national awards were given. MU's Alpha Xi chapter was represented by its president, Rebecca McDaniel, and by the vice-president, Jane McCaskey. The Gamma Beta Chapter won the awards in competition with 114 other chapters.

The first award it received was the Mary Emily Kay Scholarship Award given to colleges with 10 or less sororities.

The second national award was the National Chapter Newsletter Award given for the chapter's annual newsletter.

A local award was given to the Alpha Xi's Sunday. President Smith made the presentation of the Panhellenic Scholarship Cup at the annual Panhellenic tea. Again, since the Alpha Xi's have won this award for the last three years, they can keep it.

Here's Round-Up Of Summer News

By GARY KEARNS
Managing Editor

Summer School, 1964, was not much unlike Summer School, 1963, or any other year. But, yet, in ways, it was distinct.

Take the month of June, for instance. Preliminary plans for two new buildings for the campus were approved by the State Board of Education, with the total cost set at $3.7 million.

A three-story music building, housing a 450-seat concert hall, is the first of the two structures.

Included in this building will be classrooms, offices and practice rooms. There will be separate practice rooms for the band and the choral groups, with these rooms being the same size and shape as the stage in the concert hall.

A seven and one-half story building, housing classrooms, will be the second building erected on the campus.

The qualifying examination in English composition, a prerequisite for graduation from the University, was given twice this past summer, and two new deans joined the administrative staff.

They were Dr. John R. Warren, who heads the graduate school, and J. E. Shay Jr., who assumed the duties of dean of men.

The appointments of Dr. Warren and Shay were approved by the State Board of Education, along with many other faculty appointments.

As of June 15, a total of 2,242 students had enrolled for the first summer term, according to Luther Bledsoe, registrar.

July was a big month, too. In fact, all three of the summer months were.

For example, toward the first of July it was announced that the estimated $90,000 renovation program for Old Main Auditorium was expected to be completed by Sept. 1. It wasn't, though.

The auditorium was ordered closed early last March when a separation in the ceiling was discovered.

Also, about this time, seven recipients of the 1964 summer research board grants began working on their projects.

This marked the second year that the research board has awarded faculty grants for research during the summer term. Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs and chairman of the University Research Board, said that the persons who received the awards must work on their projects one term and teach the second.

And then, in the middle of July, The Parthenon announced the always anticipated Cultural Calendar for the approaching academic year.

And the 1964-65 calendar proved to be no exception to the excellent qualities of its predecessors.

The upcoming season's cultural events will not only provide culture, but also something called entertainment as a result of the fact that a wide variety of well-known stars will perform before the critical eye of the Marshall student body.

The Artists Series will be headed by such top names as Van Cliburn, Harry James and his orchestra, Nina Simone and the Warsaw Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra.

A Broadway hit, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians and a Canadian ballet company are just a few of the other exciting attractions of this year's Artists Series.

In the latter part of July, it was announced that Mrs. Rosanna Blake Hulse, a Marshall alumna of the Class of 1934, had informed Dr. Charles H. Moffat, professor of history, that she intended to donate her Confederate History Collection to the University.

Dr. Moffat journeyed to Owings, Md., where he examined many of the 5,000 items deposited in the Rosanna Blake Library of Confederate History, which is owned by Mrs. Hulse.

Also, about this time, the United States State Department notified Dr. Ronald G. Rollins, associate professor of English, of his selection to a Fulbright Lectureship at the American University of Karachi in Western Pakistan.

But, in a statement to The Parthenon, Dr. Rollins said he was declining the grant "for personal reasons."

Just as July was about to tick out, President Stewart H. Smith presented to the State Board of Education a proposed operating budget for 1964-65 of $3.8 million. This was an increase of $618,933 over the current fiscal year.

President Smith said that $224,088 of the proposed increase would go for salary increases for teaching and non-teaching staff members, $40,000 for graduate assistants, $95,000 for new staff members and $209,845 for current expenses, alterations and equipment.

The University's budget, tentatively approved by the Board of Education, was subjected to final approval by the board and reviewed by the Board of Public Works, which prepared a budget document for the 1965 legislature.

And, then, August rolled around.

Mr. Bledsoe made known the program some 800 incoming freshmen would follow when they arrived on campus to pre-register Aug. 16-18.

And speculations were heard on campus that the University's enrollment would reach an all-time high, with 5,600 students, according to Ray Cumberledge, assistant registrar.

Paul Collins, director of admissions, predicted that the freshmen enrollment would be in excess of 1,400. In 1963, the frosh numbered 1,145. As of Aug. 6, 1,258 had been admitted. And approximately 200 transfer students were expected to enroll.

These projected statistics included both full-time and part-time students, plus those registered for night classes. However, they did not include those students in the branch colleges and in the extension classes.

Filling in as acting dean of men, in the absence of the former dean, Stanley A. Shaw, was Charles Kautz. Kautz was quite at home in his position, too, for he was also the acting dean in the summer of 1962.

Kautz also coaches the track team. However, he will not continue in this capacity after this fall, when he will be specifically assigned to football.

Geography Department, by means of a delayed exposure, and by setting the camera itself on the map plane table.

Members of the expedition shown in the photograph were Dr. Howard Mills, professor of botany; Dr. Clagg; Jim Coulter, West Logan junior; Lloyd Kiff, Ona senior; Jim Rogers, Madison senior, and Jim Joy, Williams-town senior.

The expedition left the States on June 17 and returned the last week in August. The trek was a research project pertaining to the vegetation on the tropical island in relation to the mobility and concealment of military men or vehicles.

Big Green Opens Against Morehead

MU Favorite In 1964 Grid Season Debut

By RICK EDWARDS
Sports Editor

The Big Green will open its 1964 gridiron season tomorrow against the Eagles of Morehead (Ky.) State College at Putnam Stadium in Ashland, Ky. The game will get underway at 8 p.m.

"The team is in real good shape for the game against Morehead, and we feel that we have the making of a tremendous squad this year. The team has experience, size, speed, and a desire to win.

Jim Cure suffered a badly sprained ankle early in the practice sessions and he is still bothered by it, but Jim will start against Morehead on offense," head coach Charlie Snyder said.

"I rate Morehead as a rough team for these reasons: They have played one game already (Morehead defeated Butler University last weekend 26-7); and they did not lose many starters from last season's squad that won five and lost four. It should be a rugged game," Snyder added.

MU has 23 lettermen returning from last season's squad, 13 of which were regulars last season. Leading the returnees is Cure. He has been an All Mid-American Conference end for the past two seasons and has broken every record for receiving in the MAC and at Marshall. Last season he caught 22 passes and two of these grabs were good for touchdowns. Cure's career total for passes caught is 86, and he still has the 1964 season ahead of him.

Other outstanding performers returning this year are Howard Miller, the MAC passing champion of a year ago, at quarterback; Jack Mahone, the number four ground gainer in the nation last season, at tailback; Bill Winter and Tom Good, two second team All Mid-American Conference linemen in 1963, at guard and center, respectively.

Marshall will use the new substitute rule to its best advantage, according to coach Snyder. "We will get to use more players and by doing so we will be able to rest our boys more. Last season we had little opportunity to use Bob Venters at an end post because Benders was not the blocker Bob Pruett or Jim Perry was and we could use Pruett to receive and block with effectiveness. This year we will be able to use Venters as a receiver and to give our blocking ends a rest. I am quite pleased with the new ruling," added the MU mentor.

As for the rest of the schedule after the Morehead game, Snyder said, "We think we can improve on last year's 5-4-1 record, and we are equally confident that we will do better than 3-2-1 in the MAC. But as far as I am concerned we have to play one game at a time if we hope to be ready for every game. Right now we are ready for tomorrow's game, as soon as that game is over we will start worrying about Miami."

Morehead has an experienced team, according to Snyder, and they are just as heavy as the Big Green's starters. Morehead is not as deep in each position as MU, but in the Butler contest the Eagles head coach Guv Penny used his second unit almost as much as his first in order to give his younger boys much needed experience.

"Morehead's biggest threat is their passing game, with quarterback Mike Gottfried doing the passing. Their running game is good, handled by Tally Johnson and Russ Campbell, at halfback and fullback respectively. Most of Gottfried's passes are directed toward ends Jack Smith and Johnson," Snyder stated.

If MU's "Bingo Boys" (a nickname for the defensive backfield) are up to expectations the Big Green should have little trouble with the passing game of Morehead, but last season MU's "Bingo Boys" didn't develop until the second or third game of the season, which was too late for the Morehead game and as a result Marshall lost by the score of 19-6. This year's version is composed of Larry Coyer and Gary Marvin at the deepbacks, Jack "Jabo" Williams and Paul Turman at the corner backs. All are back from last year with the exception of Marvin.

Marshall will go into the game as a heavy favorite, much the same as last season, but this year Snyder says, "Our boys are expecting a hard game, we don't want a repeat of last year's game. We'll give it all we have against Morehead."

Starting for Marshall on offense will be Jim Cure and Bob Pruett at ends, Fred Anderson and Bill Bobbitt at tackles, Bill Winter and Clyde Owens at guards, Tom Good at center, Howard Miller at quarterback, Jack Mahone at tailback, Jim Brown at fullback and Ray Henderson at wingback.

The defensive lineup will see Pruett and Jim Perry at ends, Anderson and Bobbitt at tackles, Owens at guard, Good and Winter at linebackers, and John Williams, Paul Turman, Larry Coyer and Gary Marvin in the backfield.

5 Games Face Frosh Gridders

The freshmen football team will play a five-game schedule this season, opening at home against Muskeegum College on Sept. 28.

"All we know right now is that the team is bigger than usual, both in size and number," said Coach Charlie Kautz.

A larger than usual number of 36 players has turned out, 24 of whom are scholarship recipients.

The schedule: Muskeegum College, Sept. 28, home, 8 p.m.; Ohio University, Oct. 8, Pt. Pleasant, 7:30 p.m.; VPI, Oct. 23, Williamson, 8 p.m.; Xavier University, Oct. 30, away, 3 p.m.; Cincinnati, Nov. 9, home, 3:30 p.m. or 7:30 p.m., depending on weather conditions.

AN UNPLEASANT reminder of last year's season opener against Morehead greets Big Green starters, (from left) Clyde Owens, Jack Mahone, and Howie Miller. The sign was drafted and hoisted on the tennis court screens by three dedicated Green followers who feel a word to the wise never hurt anything. MU will take on the Eagles tomorrow at 8 p.m. at Putnam Stadium in Ashland, Ky.

New Director Of Christian Center Named

The Rev. Elmer Dierks, supervisor of Baptist Campus Ministry in the universities and colleges of West Virginia, has replaced The Rev. Lander Beal for one year as acting director and head of staff at the Campus Christian Center.

On leave of absence from Marshall, Reverend Beal will spend a year at the Candler School of Theology of Emory University in Atlanta, Ga., completing studies leading to his master's degree.

Several new features have been added to the center's program including the organization of a choir and a series of Thursday beginning programs at 6 p.m. Any interested students may attend. These meetings are conducted by various religious groups on campus and deal with many subjects ranging from a debate on state politics on Sept. 24 to a discussion of sexual morality on campus on Oct. 1.

Plans Made Known For Two Buildings

By THOM CLINE
Staff Reporter

Occupying the entire southwest corner of the campus — now Marshall's drill field — a three-story music building and a seven and one-half story classroom building are expected to be completed and ready for use by the fall term, 1966.

Preliminary plans for the new buildings have been approved by the State Board of Education with the total cost set at over $3.5 million.

The music building, housing a 450-seat concert hall, will include classrooms, offices and practice rooms. There will be separate practice rooms for the band and choral groups, with these two rooms being the same size and shape as the stage in the concert hall.

On the first floor of the classroom building will be the Speech Department. The second floor will contain the Speech Department and the Journalism Department's photography laboratory, with an entrance on the same level as Old Main.

On the third floor will be the Journalism and History Departments, while the fourth floor will house a part of the History Department and the Language Department. Also included on the fourth floor will be a 90-unit language laboratory.

On the fifth floor there will be the Sociology and Mathematics Departments, with calculator rooms to be shared by these two units. The sixth floor will be occupied by the Art Department.

Faculty offices will be located on the seventh floor. As a student enters the seventh floor, he will be met by a receptionist. She will then take his name and call the adviser whom he wishes to see. The student may then wait in the lounge until the faculty member is ready to see him. There will be a secretarial pool for all faculty members, thus alleviating the need for each department to have its own secretary.

It was taken into consideration that the faculty members had never had a place of their own for relaxation, and so the eighth level, or the roof area of the building, will include a faculty lounge and terrace, with a coffee bar. On the other end of the roof there will be a student terrace for members of the Art Department to do open-air painting.

Each of the floors from the second up will be connected by escalators, or moving stairways, for use by the students. There will also be elevator service for faculty members and handicapped students, but it was found that escalators would be less expensive and would take up less space than would elevator service for the students. By using escalator service nearly 15 additional classrooms were gained in the building.

This will be the first school in the United States to use escalator service in a classroom building, according to Dr. Harold E. Walker, vice president of academic affairs. Although this service is for student use, it is for use in one direction only—up. The student must still walk down the stairs.

The two buildings will be connected by a covered area housing a lounge for students, and under both buildings will be underground parking space for as many as 90 cars.

The buildings will be air-conditioned. The air-conditioning and heating will be centrally located for both buildings and the proposed library expansion.

According to Dr. Walker, it will take at least another four months before ground can be broken for the new construction, and it is hoped that they will be ready for use by 1966.

The next two projects to be undertaken are the addition to the Library and the construction of a new Student Union, according to President Stewart H. Smith.

Dean and Dean, local architects, have been consulted for the library construction, but no plans have been made yet for the Student Union.
